WESTERN POWERS DELIVER NOTES TO RUSSIA

Britain, the United States and France have told Russia that they are ready to discuss the issue of Berlin—if the Russians lift their blockade of rail and road communications between the city and the western zones of Germany.

In three separate formal notes, handed to Soviet diplomats Tuesday of last week and published the following Friday, the three powers said they would not give way to threats or pressure. The British and United States notes added "or other actions," and were couched in much blunter terms than the French communication.

Judging from these messages, the western powers are determined right now to make two points unmistakably clear to the Kremlin. These are that the Russians cannot force them out of Berlin by measures short of war nor can they be forced into an immediate new meeting of the foreign ministers' council to reopen the whole question of Germany's future. Some observers think this last demand may be formally made by Russia.

The Washington and London notes are perhaps the sharpest delivered to Moscow since the war, but they nonetheless extend a readiness in the position of the western powers. They did not in any sense constitute ultimatums. The reason is, apparently, that aside from an appeal to the United Nations, there is nothing the western powers can do short of war—a step they obviously do not plan.

However, besides recourse to the U.N., there is always the possibility that the western allies might impose their own economic and diplomatic sanctions—which can be powerful weapons—if Russia will not come to terms.

COMMUNIST THREAT TO ALL ASIA

British officials in Malaya say that guerrilla fighting there results from "a deliberate plan by Malayan Communists to start a violent revolution and capture by force the government of the country."

Communists, long have been active in Malaya and the disturbed political and economic conditions in that country during and after the Second World War have been favorable to their schemes and plans. President news from the peninsula again emphasizes that the Communists are making much more progress in Asia than most people realize. It is one more indication of the magnitude of the Communist problem.

To realize the extent of Communist penetration of Asia it is necessary only to list the major Asiatic countries and consider the extent of Communist activity in each one of them.

All Siberia is a part of the Soviet Union. In addition, the Russians have outright control of north Korea and strong influence in Chinese Turkestan.

Outer-Mongolia is one of their satellite states and Communist strength seems to be growing rapidly in inner Mongolia. Russia holds both Dairen and Port Arthur in Manchuria while most of the rest of Manchuria is dominated by Chinese Communists. Much of north China and even parts of the Yangtze Valley are held by them.

The revolt against the French in Indo-China has Communist leadership. In Siam there is a rightist government but a Communist underground has considerable strength and Russian agents are active. Reforms sponsored in Japan by the United States as well as firmness in connection with general strikes have restricted the growth of the Communist party there.

In the Philippines and Indonesia, the Communists do not seem to be powerful at present. There is a guerrilla war in Malaya, apparently started by the Communists. Burma has a Marxist-inclined government that may possibly turn into the Communist government.

Local Boy Tops Them All

By Fred Inglis
Ottawa Evening Citizen Staff Writer

It's not size that counts in the Royal Canadian Air Force. Tall or short, they serve in various capacities throughout the service.

This week two young men from Western Canada, one extremely short and the other unusually tall, formed part of an air-mapping crew which left Rockcliffe bound for Goose Bay, Labrador, and eventually Ungava Bay. Both are members of No. 413 Photo Survey Squadron, engaged in air-survey work in Canada's far northern regions.

Flying Officer "Jim" Thompson DFC, 26, of Wainwright and Ottawa, is exactly five feet tall. He's one of three navigators in the crew, AC2 "Charlie" Davis, 20, of Wainwright, Alta., is six feet, five inches in height. He is one of three cooks who will prepare meals from canned and dehydrated foods, smoked meats and powdered eggs.

DFC Winner

F/O Thompson retired from the air force on his return from overseas in 1945, and spent three years at the University of Manitoba under DVA assistance, studying to ward a degree in Commerce. Nine months ago he married a Winnipeg girl, Lorraine Hancock and recently he rejoined the air force in his former rank and capacity as navigator. He won the DFC after 32 operational flights and 2 1/2 years service with bomber command criss-crossing Europe. Closest shave he knows of was when he bailed out of a disabled bomber over England.

"It took an awful long time to come down," he said with a chuckle as he recalled the prolonged descent by parachute.

Young Charlie Davis who just recently turned 20 and appears to be still growing upwards, enlisted in the RCAF in January 1946. Before that he showed signs for a liking for the far north when he drove trucks as far as Whitehorse. He acquired his culinary experience while working in a cafe in Edmonton. AC2 Charlie Davis is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Davis of Wainwright. Charlie will be well remembered by Wainwright people, having clerked in a local department store prior to enlisting in the RCAF.

Mr. & Mrs. G. Graham Feted by 'Old Sweats'

A few of the "old sweats" Legion comrades of World War I, gathered at the Wainwright Hotel on Sunday night last, July 11, to honor Mr. and Mrs. G. Graham, prior to their departure to the coast where they will make their home in future.

Mr. Graham has been a Legion member for a good number of years and during that time has always been keenly interested in Legion affairs. Mr. Chas. Horn made a presentation on behalf of those present, presenting Mr. Graham with a ball-point pen and Mrs. Graham with a gold locket.

Cougar at Large North of Wainwright

Reports have been heard that a cougar or mountain lion is on the loose in the Gilt Edge district north of Wainwright. Quite a number of people have reported seeing this animal and while it has done no damage yet, it has certainly caused quite a bit of excitement in that area.

On Monday morning the Game Warden from Vermilion was scheduled to come to the district to help in hunting down the animal, but the Star has not learned at the time of writing whether it has been captured yet or not. Phone lines to that district were out of order on Monday so no communication could be made with the people living in that area.

It is not often a cougar or mountain lion wanders so far from its normal haunts but due to the heavy floods in the spring it is probable that the animal became lost, or possibly was carried downstream in the rushing water. In all probability it followed the Battle River Valley to this point.

Local Boy Guest of New York Benefactor

What you are about to read will sound almost as a fairy tale of old, but quite to the contrary, it happened only a few weeks ago, and to a Wainwright boy.

The story starts more than a year ago when Mr. and Mrs. J. Madkins and family were holidaying at Radium Hot Springs in the Alberta Rockies. During their stay, while sitting around the swimming pool watching the swimmers in the water below them, across the way sitting at another table were two couples, obviously American tourists, and a conversation ensued between the Madkins family and the people of the other party which resulted in a friendship lasting all winter. The names of the other people were Mr. Hoffman, his daughter, and Mr. and Mrs. Simms all of New York City. Mr. Hoffman is a prominent lawyer in New York and Mrs. Simms is a writer of words for popular music.

At that time Mr. Hoffman was attracted to Mr. and Mrs. Madkins' son, Jimmy, age 16. A friendship was begun then much to Jimmy's benefit. As the Hoffmans and Simms were visitors to Canada they had no reservations at Radium where they were travelling. Accommodation although hard to secure, was arranged for the visitors through the Madkins family on their arrival in Radium. The act of kindness was well received and very much appreciated by Mr. Hoffman. He casually mentioned that Jimmy should visit him sometime at his New York home, something that Jimmy never dreamed would come true. As stated above, Mr. Hoffman and Jimmy corresponded during the winter months, writing back and forth with no particular hint of anything unusual. The fairy tale portion of the story unfolds as follows. During the third week of June this year Jimmy was notified by Mr. Hoffman that he was coming to Wainwright, writing back and forth with no particular hint of anything unusual. The fairy tale portion of the story unfolds as follows. During the third week of June this year Jimmy was notified by Mr. Hoffman that he was coming to Wainwright, writing back and forth with no particular hint of anything unusual.

Jimmy, receiving the consent of his parents, left Wainwright on the night train of Thursday, June 24th. On arriving in Toronto he was met by Mr. Hoffman and from there they journeyed to New York in Mr. Hoffman's car, stopping off at Niagara Falls along the way.

Jimmy has since written his family stating that he arrived in New York on July 1st and has had a wonderful time since visiting the sights of that famous city. One particular feature which impressed him was seeing real big time baseball. He mentioned that he had been to quite a few good ball games. In the last letter that Mr. and Mrs. Madkins received Jimmy wrote that he expected to be back in Wainwright on or about September 1st, just in time for school. He mentioned that Mr. Hoffman and himself were planning on taking a trip west stopping off at New Orleans. He also mentioned that Mr. Hoffman owned a hotel in Arizona and that they would be stopping there for awhile before proceeding to California.

There you have it folks. Didn't we tell you what you were about to read would sound like a fairy tale. Something which you read about in books but which you never expect to happen in real life. It just proves that the unexpected does sometimes happen and in this case Jimmy Madkins was the lucky boy. Congratulations Jimmy, we know that you will enjoy your holiday.

English Journey

Food and Rationing

Everybody in Canada is greatly interested in the food situation in England and many conflicting stories have been told. Here is what I found.

One of the most remarkable changes since I was here in 1942 is found in the shops. Where windows were absolutely bare in 1942, they are filled with merchandise of all kinds today. Stores which in 1942 were almost empty with large sections roped off, are groaning under the load of goods.

But here is the rub, these goods are most difficult to buy due to the mass of red tape and restrictions. Rationing in England is a fearful thing to experience. English people are tied down by restrictions and bureaucratic rules and regulations to an unbelievable extent.

I confess that I cannot understand much of it, but I find that many people who have been here ever since before the war are just as puzzled as I am.

First thing on arrival at Blackpool my wife and I had to go to the central food control office to get our ration books, for one cannot get along without them.

It took us a whole morning to stand in line, get national registration cards, sign numbers of forms, most of which we knew nothing about, and finally receive books and coupons for meat, preserves, sugar, cheese, butter and fats, bacon, eggs, milk, clothing, bread, tea, soap, points for cereals, canned goods, sweets, and several other things.

The clerical work in filling out forms, cutting off expired portions, etc., is tremendous. There must be an enormous waste of manpower over this rationing for there are offices with large staffs in all except the smallest places.

In addition there is fuel, control, gasoline control, building control, rent control, etc.

Once the ration books are received the newcomer may think he can start out to do things. What a hope! You can only buy meat, milk, butter, eggs, bacon, sugar, jam, cheese, etc., at a store where you have registered, and it is difficult to change registration from one store to another.

Thus you have to take whatever your merchant cares to give you, or what he has on hand, and you cannot go to another store without a good reason and going through much red tape. Therefore if you think your butcher is not giving you fair treatment, about the only way you can improve matters is by trying to carry favour with him.

There are some few things that are neither rationed nor sold on points, such as fish, fresh vegetables and a few tinned articles such as fish and meat soups, etc., but in many cases the store has a sign over them reading "Reserved for our regular customers."

Although there is plenty of tinned foods in the stores, no one can buy much of it for each person only receives 28 points a month and 28 points will only buy a very little. Here is what is needed in points on some common items, salmon 32 points a tin; sardines 2 pts. a tin; fruit cocktail 20 points a tin; peas 5 pts. a can; beans 12 pts. a can; soda biscuits (or cream crackers as they are called) 4 pts. a lb.; chocolate biscuits 16 pts. a lb.; plain biscuits, 4 pts. a lb.; jelly powder, 4 pts. a package and other things in proportion, so that the purchaser seriously studies just how much money there is to be made out of this.

how he will use the slim allotment of points that he is given.

Bread and cake are sold on "bread unit" points, and 36 a month is allowed each person. A loaf of bread requires 4 "BU's" and the loaves look pretty small to a Canadian.

Where chickens are kept, the egg ration for every member of the family must be surrendered and 3 lbs. of chicken meat is allowed for each person's egg ration, so even the chickens have to go short.

On sweets, the ration is 12 oz. a month with an occasional increase to 16 oz. One lady told me that she had saved up her sweet coupons in order to buy a couple of pounds of candies for her daughter who was returning to boarding school, only to find that the coupons had expired the previous Saturday. She told me "I was ready to sit down and cry."

It is with fuel that the people really suffer. The first two weeks after we arrived, it was quite cold, with frost every night. The English houses have a real coal in them, and the people huddle around a tiny grate fire. The fuel allowance in the north is 5,000 pounds a year and in the south 3,500 pounds.

The English homes have a real chill even in late spring and must be pretty grim in midwinter.

Electricity and gas are also in very short supply.

Gasoline is supposed to be so severely rationed that only essential driving can be done. The gasoline rationing has been the most difficult to enforce and there is a remarkably large number of cars on the streets and roads which seem to prove that there is considerable disregard of the regulations.

Tourists are supposed to receive special consideration, but we found there is a catch to that also. To get this tourist allowance, it is necessary to either bring your own car into Britain or else buy one to take home with you. Although my brother-in-law had a car standing idle, and we were bona-fide tourists, we could not get an allowance to drive in his car.

However gasoline rationing is to be relaxed in June.

It looks to an outsider, as if rationing has been retained over long and when we arrived we noticed, a tremendous agitation to relax restrictions on certain articles, notably shoes, dry goods, and clothes. It was reliably reported that wealthy houses were bulging with merchandise that people have no coupons to buy.

It has been announced that restrictions on clothing are being relaxed on May 11th.

There is more fresh fruit available, but bananas are only sold on allotment and are only sold for children.

The days when eggs were obtainable at about one egg a month seem to be over, and while still not plentiful, are obtainable in small quantities. This, we were told, is a seasonal condition.

The meat ration is pitifully small. Our hosts last week bought their week's allowance of meat for a whole family and ourselves, and we ate it all at one meal. It was a small roast of about 2 pounds. We are told that most people do the same thing, as it is foolish to try and spread it over several meals.

Bacon allowance is two ounces per person per week which is only about two small slices.

While the above would tend to show that there is not much to eat in England today, the fact is that everybody gets plenty to eat. The English still eat at least four times a day, for no one seems to be able to dispense with afternoon tea at about 4:30 p.m.

But the real trouble is there is too much monotony about the meals, which are too starchy. There is too much bread, plain cake and vegetables and not enough variety.

I have been staying at the homes of relatives all the time I have been in England, but have eaten some lunches, dinners or teas at hotels.

In all the homes, the housewives complain that it is extremely difficult to make appetizing dishes out of the same ingredients, day after day.

In the hotels and restaurants the average meal consists of a thick soup, which seems to be made with some starchy powder; a woefully small piece of mutton; beef or fish, or a meat pie made of ground-up meat, and an overly large helping of potatoes, and some kind of vegetable, usually cabbage, cauliflower, or greens; and a dessert usually made of some kind of cake or steam pudding, with a custard sauce. Tea or coffee is not included with the meal, but may be purchased separately.

Chicken is not rationed but is extremely scarce and very expensive, so it is sold separately.

Therefore the best things for Canadians to include in parcels to friends or relatives in England are canned chicken, pork products, salmon or other fish, sugar, cheese, raisins or currents (which are absolutely unobtainable) jams and jellies if in tins. Butter arrives in excellent condition if packed in air tight tins.

Second-hand clothes in good condition also are welcomed and very few people are too proud or fastidious not to be happy to wear discarded clothes received from friends in Canada, provided of course that they are in fairly good condition.

Soap is also welcomed as the soap allowance is only 3 oz. a week of all kinds, and the quality is poor.

Wainwright U.F.W.A.

A meeting of Wainwright U.F.W.A. was held at the home of Mrs. L. Mygland on July 8. The meeting was opened with an article "Why I should belong to the U.F.W.A." The roll call was answered with "My Mother's Birthplace." The need for a Rest Room in Wainwright was discussed at some length and it is hoped that the sewer and water, would soon be installed so as to make this project possible. Arrangements were made to attend the summer conference at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Spencer on August 5. Plans were made to hold a sale of home cooking in August. Two resolutions were passed: (1) Whereas many persons of seventy years and over are living on annuities or savings amounting to little more than the old age pension, and

Whereas these persons through their personal thrift are saving the government the cost of providing them with old age pensions, and

Whereas these persons seem to be penalized because of their thriftiness;

Therefore be it resolved that we, the members of the U.F.W.A. do hereby petition the government to provide free medical, dental and hospital care to all persons of pensionable age who are in receipt of no more than $750 per annum, if single and $1500 if married.

After testing the fact that a Hutterite Colony might be allowed to settle in this district the following resolution was passed.

Resolved that the Federal Government be urged to cancel the agreements entered into with the Menonites, Hutterites and Doukhobors giving exemption from military service to members of these brotherhoods, such cancellation to take effect 12 months after the passing of the legislation to affect every person born after that date and further that all members of these brotherhoods now living in Canada be required to take their full share in non-combatant war services.

School, municipal and hospital taxes were discussed and the general consensus of opinion was that although school taxes seemed to increase enormously the children did not seem to be receiving an education even as good as that received longer ago. It was felt that unless senior governments took over part of the financial burden of education that people would lose their homes in order to educate their families.

Reports from the Canadian Association of Consumers and the Alberta Federation of Agriculture were read and discussed. Excerpts from Health Round-up were read. Problems of Rural Housing were discussed at length. A prize donated by Mrs. H. Driver was raffled and won by Mrs. R. Deyell. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. R. Deyell.

For those who prefer a repellent spray, with a quick knock-down bill of all flies it hits, your Imperial Oil offers the tried-and-proven Stanco Livestock Spray. No spray repels flies more effectively, or knocks them down faster.

THIS YEAR, you can rid your livestock and your stables, hog pens and poultry houses of flies, more completely than ever before. Imperial D D T Concentrate is the answer to your prayer, as far as flies are concerned.

It's economical to use, too. For power spraying or dipping, you mix only 1 part concentrate to 125 parts water (which is equal to about 2 1/2 table-spoonfuls in a gallon). For hand spraying, you double the strength. For walls and ceilings, a gallon of concentrate makes 5 gallons of spray.

As it dries, it leaves a residue of D D T on the animal's hair, or on walls and ceilings, which is sure death to every fly that lights on it. They pick it up on their feet and it kills by paralysis.

Imperial D D T Concentrate is the most up-to-the-minute fly killer on the market. You can depend on it. See your Imperial Oil Agent.

Modern Harvesters' Excursion to Help Canadian Farmers

A New Era in Harvesting Started by Massey-Harris Combines

Trainloads of Massey-Harris combines rolling across the country to the grain farming areas are a common sight nowadays. They have replaced the once familiar annual harvesters' excursions which brought thousands of harvest hands to the prairies.

Modern mechanical harvesters like the Massey-Harris self-propelled combines, have brought many advantages to grain growers. With them, crop can be harvested with the minimum of manual labor, a great money-saving feature when, in times like these, experienced farm help is in short supply and wage rates are high.

Massey-Harris self-propelled combines speed up harvesting—one man can cut and thresh 50 acres and upwards in a day. Operating costs are low too with a self-propelled—one motor supplies power to propel and operate the machine. There is no expense for twice or stocking. And the combine has done away with the work, worry and expense of threshing time.

The demand for combines indicates the trend towards modern mechanical harvesting. From factories with capacity increased greatly, more and more Massey-Harris combines are being built to help Canadian farmers harvest their crops easier, quicker and at less cost.

Army Invites Public To Demonstration Saturday

Word has been received by the Star that the Canadian Army stationed at the Wainwright Camp have issued an invitation to the general public to witness "Exercise Co-op" to be held Saturday, July 17th.

The demonstration will show the co-operation of all army units used in attack, and weather permitting, it is hoped that aircraft will be on hand to live up the show.

The general public is cordially invited to watch these exercises but it was pointed out that they would have to be inside the Camp gates before they close at 1:15 p.m. After that time the road from the gate becomes a danger area and no person will be allowed to travel there.

The display will last approximately two hours and should be over by 3:30 p.m.

For those who have no transportation it will be provided from the gate to the firing range. For those with cars the route will be marked out from Wainwright with signs reading "demonstration." Anyone following these signs will be directed to the scene of attack.

The floor area, for estimating purposes, is 780 square feet.
Under the terms of the National Housing Act, financial assistance illustrated. Complete construction drawings for this plan, known as Sketch Design No. 229, are available from Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation at minimum cost.

By Douglas Murray

It's simple to sit back and reflect that it's time Canada made a good showing in an Olympiad. It's not so easy, however for men who are determined to bring laurels to our country.

For instance, one of Canada's best hopes, little Gerard Cote, hasn't much time to reflect. This 135-pounder does most of his reflecting as he pounds along the highway out of St. Hyacinthe, Que., covering an average of 25 miles a day, three times a week.

Everyone looks to Cote as a gleaming hope to win the Olympic marathon in the London games this year, because he has met the toughest competition on the North American continent while running in the Boston marathon—which he has won four times.

Cote says, "I'd gladly give back three of my victories in Boston for an Olympic triumph."

To gather an idea of Cote's character, here are two comparative times His best time in the Boston Marathon made in 1943, was 2:28:25.8.
K. Son of Japan won the 1936 Olympic event at Berlin in 2:29:19.2.
Cote's better time for the Boston Marathon doesn't mean he's a sure thing, but it does indicate he's close to it.

The little man with the stout heart and indestructible muscles realizes what he will be up against with the change of climate in England. He shouldn't be too worried as he won the 30-mile World Championship race in England while still a sergeant in the Canadian army. Incidentally he set a record winning that grind.

The 34-year-old dynamo doesn't under-estimate his rivals. He thinks an Englishman will win the marathon. He comments that he did a lot of running when he was stationed in England and found the air too damp. He explains that it was difficult to breathe after 20 miles or so.

With hall space reduced to the absolute minimum, this four-room bungalow was designed with an eye to the modest budget and sends itself readily to basement-less construction.

Planned especially for a narrow lot its outside dimensions are 24' x 32' 10". Construction is not complicated and standard materials may be used without undue waste. The exterior may be in brick or other approved materials.
The gable over the front entrance breaks the line of the roof, and the two small windows to the right of the entrance provide interesting contrast.

The living-room contains adequate dining space adjacent to the compact kitchen. The service entrance—convenient to both the basement stairs and the kitchen—can save many steps for the housewife. The two bedrooms are ideal for a small family, and the one at the rear could be converted into a very comfortable den. In both rooms, there is ample closet space with a linen closet in the small hall.

This is probably sheer modesty.
If Cote himself doesn't think he stands much chance, why is he running 20 and 30 miles three times a week? Why does he devote most of his spare time from tasks at the Veteran's Hospital at St. Hyacinthe, where he is employed, travelling to Montreal so he can run over more difficult courses?

The answer, of course, is determination to win.

The marathon in the first modern Olympiad fell to a man with a terrific determination. Back in 1896 in Athens, a Greek peasant, with fierce national pride, decided the first marathon wreath must fall to a Greek. So Spiridon Loues started to practice in the hills where he tended sheep and although he was unknown, he beat his supposedly better opponents.

If Cote, with the usual big cigar in his mouth, doesn't place the Olympic olive wreath on the Canadian maple leaf, it won't be for lack of trying, or for lack of ability.

"You know," she said,

In fact, he has no vices or he's going to celebrate his

A new family moved into

Vermilion Fair Next Week Expected
Gala Event

Vermilion's 42nd annual exhibition will open its gates on Thursday July 22nd and will run for three days filled with excitement and entertainment while, at the same time, district people will have an opportunity of seeing outstanding livestock and the handicraft of old and young. The Vermilion Fair is specializing in young peoples' work this year and it is expected that a good many of the boys and girls will exhibit school work and handicraft.

One hundred and twenty five boys and girls between the ages of 13 and 18 are scheduled to arrive in Vermilion on Monday afternoon, July 19th, to begin their week's short course, sponsored by the Vermilion Fair. The young people will live at the School of Agriculture and the School staff will conduct the interesting short courses. Principal Bentley assures all those who have enrolled of a splendid week. During the Fair Days the boys and girls will be guests of the Fair Board at the Fair and at the evening grandstand show on Thursday 22nd. The Alberta Wheat Pool will tender a dinner to the youths during the week.

Every possible effort has been made by the Directors to secure high class grandstand attractions and they are pleased to offer patrons of the fair such outstanding acts as the Singing Marines, five persons whose voices blend superbly and who will please as did the Varsity Eight several years ago. Betty Patrick, 60 feet in the air on a swinging pole will thrill all those privileged to see her in action while the Sensational Kays, with their bicycle ride in midair will keep everyone tense during the entire act. The Nissen troupe of acrobats are likened to Ping Pong balls in action. Smith & Allen, with their comedy musical act will appeal particularly to the 'kids' but we fancy that the oldsters, too, will crack the occasional smile. The LaBlonde Trio 'in their 'flying' trapeze are guaranteed to keep you in suspense and Matt Tuck with his barrel rolling and balancing will draw round after round of applause. Beautiful costuming and high grade scenery with a grand orchestra will create a fine setting for the 1946 attractions.

As an added attraction on Saturday afternoon only, 'Lucky' Lott and his daredevil drivers will be the centre of attraction; for ninety minutes, beginning at two o'clock, they will give a programme that will make you hold on to your hat—don't miss a single programme at Vermilion Fair this year. Advance tickets are now on sale.

The Gilt Edge picnic was held last Wednesday with a good crowd attending. Anburndale taking the soft ball game, with Mr. H. Teaser winner in the free for all. Ronny Babb the stake race. Ken Teaser the pony race. A dance in the evening topped off the day.
